

Seems to me that inlight of the power failure this summer, that the power companies need to concentrate in thier core business. Which is Power Over Power Lines not trying to be the newist isp on the block